NORTHFIELD

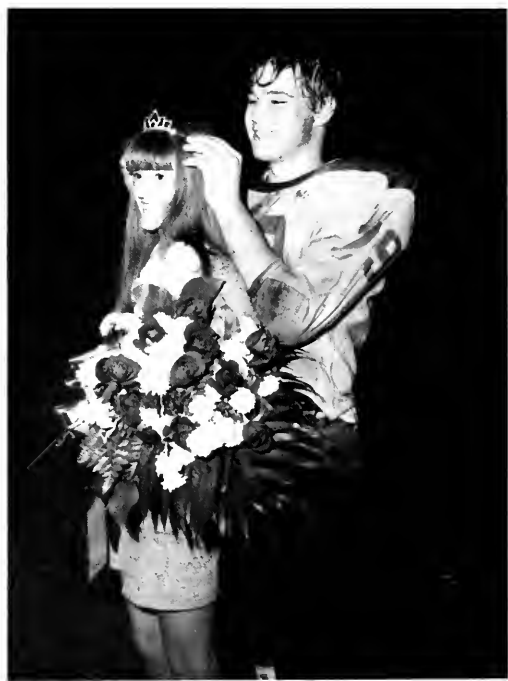

Sophs Take Homecoming Honors

The class of 1974 swept the honors at Homecoming '71. Nancy McColley and Jim Urschel were named queen and king and the sophomore class float won first place.

For their candidates the seniors chose Patty Yentes and Kelly Stephens. Debbie Miller and Randy Fearnow represented the junior class. The freshmen candidates were Sally Strange and Rex Cunningham.

"American Heritage" was the theme chosen by the Student Council. The winning float was yellow and orange with a farmer plowing up a field with the theme, "Norse Plow 'Em Under."

"Weaker Sex" Presented by Chorus

The first N.H.S. fall review was presented Oct. 28. This first review was a medley of hit tunes centered around "The Weaker Sex."

Included in the show were skits, small groups, and even full scale production numbers.

Director Terry Becker chose the theme because about 90% of his high school classes are composed of females.

The Crucible

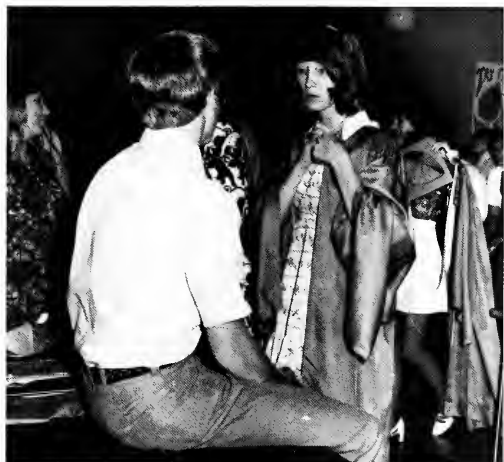

On Nov. 12 and 13 the Dramatics Club presented "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller. This play was an intense drama based on the facts about the Salem witch trials. It wasn't a show just to sit back and enjoy, but to interpret and mull over for insights.

Many fine dramatic performances were turned in by NHS students, perhaps surprising a few patrons of the theatre who thought Northfield could only produce a comedy. Members of the cast were: Patti Stephens, Joanie Smith, Sandra Cook, Karen Sauder, Lottie Waggoner, Debbie Swart, Jean McColley, Lisa Custer, Robin Galley, Beverly Corn, Rick Miller, Dale Smith, Jerry Gaff, Steve Hantelman, Jeff Culver, Andy Cartwright, Byron Burns, Rusty Reiken, Dave Edenburn and Randall R. Fernow.

ACADEMICS

English—the World's Most Complicated Language

English is required in grades seven through eleven. Literature is also taken in these grades. Speech I is substituted for English in the Sophomore year.

As electives, Creative Writing, Contemporary Literature, Journalism, Speech II, English 12 and English Literature are offered. The English department feels that courses in English, speech, and journalism furnish a definite outline for relating teaching methods to the needs of each student.

Grammar is presented as a functional tool for more effective self-expression, not as fixed rules for memorizing in the classroom and using on special occasions.

The flexibility of the learning areas in the curriculum provides opportunity for student and teacher to determine placement of special drills. Material presented may be reduced or extended according to the present needs of individuals.

Mathematics

BELOW: Seventh graders work out math problems on the board while Mr. David Reep helps a student at his desk. RIGHT: Juniors in Algebra II class seem to find something amusing.

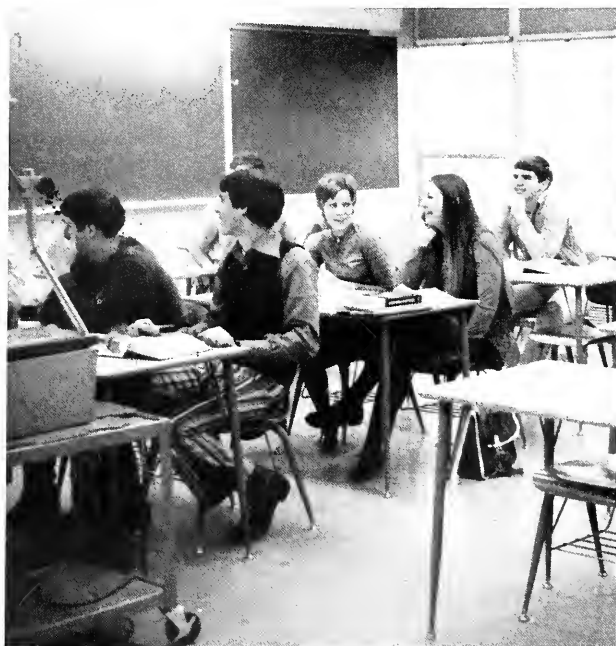

The Math department is headed by Mr. Allen Rice. Mr. Rice teaches Senior Math, Algebra II, and some junior high math classes. Mr. Thomas Reahard teaches Geometry. Mr. Harold Christie teaches General Math and Algebra I. Mr. Kenneth Norman and Mr. David Reep teach junior high classes, too.

In junior high, math is required. Seventh grade math is mainly review work, in the eighth grade simple Algebra problems are introduced. A prognosis test is given to find out the students who have the aptitude to take Algebra I. Freshman have a choice between General Math and Algebra. In one's sophomore year, math is not required, however, Geometry is offered. Algebra II and Senior Math are further electives.

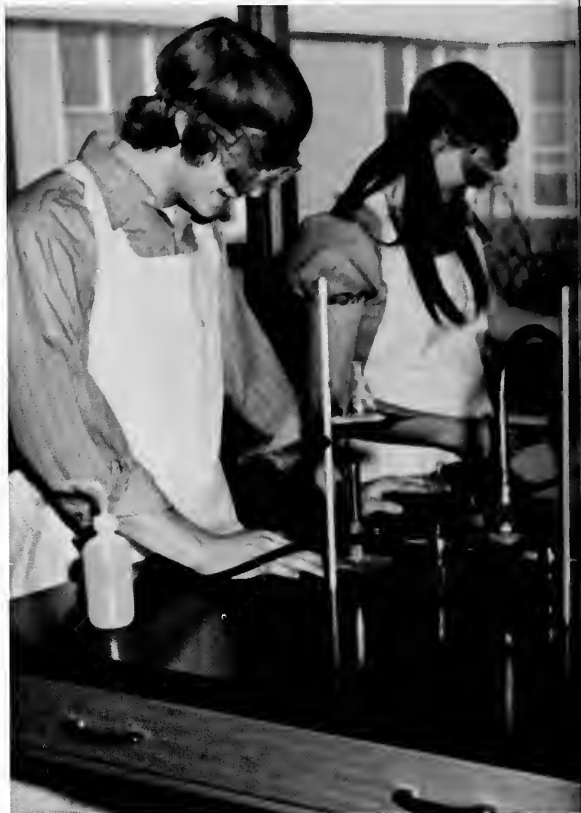

Eighth graders (ABOVE) study division and multiplication, while seniors (BELOW) study calculus and trigonometry.

Science Department

The Science Department includes Biology, Chemistry, Physics and General Science. Seventh grade general science and freshman biology are the only required science subjects. Eighth grade science, advanced biology, chemistry and physics are electives.

Mr. Marvin Mast is the head of the this department. His classes include eighth grade science and chemistry which deals with the composition, structure and properties of elementary substances and the changes they undergo.

Mr. Dennis Grinstead teaches frosh biology and advanced biology, which is zoology (study of animals) and botany (study of plants). Mr. Hal Gunter teaches general science and advanced biology.

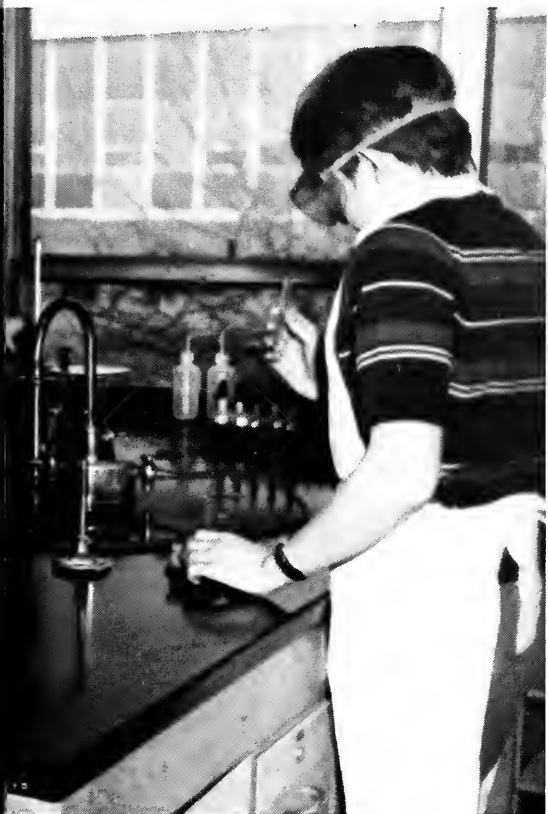

In freshman biology students try dissecting and in advanced biology students go into more difficult studies of plants and animals.

Mr. Thomas Reahard teaches the physics class. Physics deals with a science of phenomena of inanimate matter and includes consideration of mechanics, heat, light, electricity, sound, and nuclear phenomena.

This year the science dept. developed a set of objectives for the 71-72 school year.

Science gives the student command of factual information and helps to distinguish between fact and theory. Students should develop the "cause and effect" concept relationship. Science will train the individual to base his judgment on facts and formulate a workable hypothesis. Science should make the individual willing to change opinions on the basis of new evidence.

Social Studies Department Attempts to Produce Better Citizens

The Social Studies department is headed by Mr. Rex Price. Courses offered on this level are; American History, Government, Economics, World History, World Geography, Indiana History, Psychology, Sociology, and Health.

The department feels that it is important to help students accept their responsibilities as a citizen and to formulate attitudes that are beneficial to today's society. An important part of social studies is acquainting students with early civilizations in the world and being able to relate them to our present society.

Social studies teachers try to develop an understanding and tolerance of individuals, social institutions and cultures throughout the world, in their students.

Business Department

The business dept. is primarily headed by Mrs. Mary Ann Mast, Mrs. Doris Rice and Mr. Clyde Duker. The main courses and their objectives are: 1) general business: understanding of the nature of business and of contractual responsibilities. 2) Bookkeeping: to acquire ability in using financial statements as guides for future business planning and conduct. 3) Typing I: to provide skills sufficient to type papers, reports, etc. for school, college, business purposes. 4) Shorthand: to develop traits essential for success and promotion in office positions. 5) Business law: To draw upon the daily experiences of each student—relating law as a part of normal life. 6) Office machines: To acquaint students with basic office machines. 7) Office practice: to acquaint students with the requirements for the responsibilities of various office positions. 8) Marketing: to provide students with a foundation of economic and marketing concepts. 9) Typing II: to reinforce basic techniques involving the operative parts of a typewriter and to increase speed and accuracy. 10) Salesmanship: To learn the basic techniques and skills needed to sell a product to the public.

Physical Ed. Department

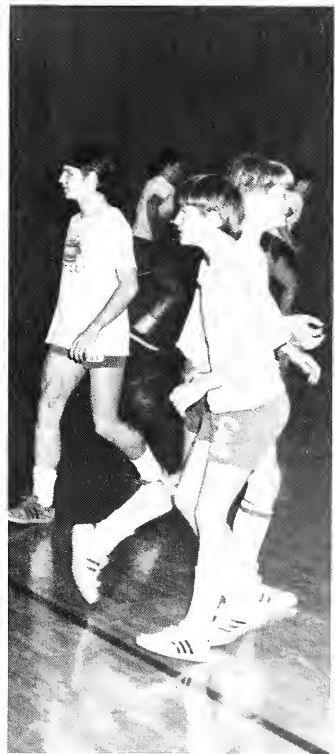

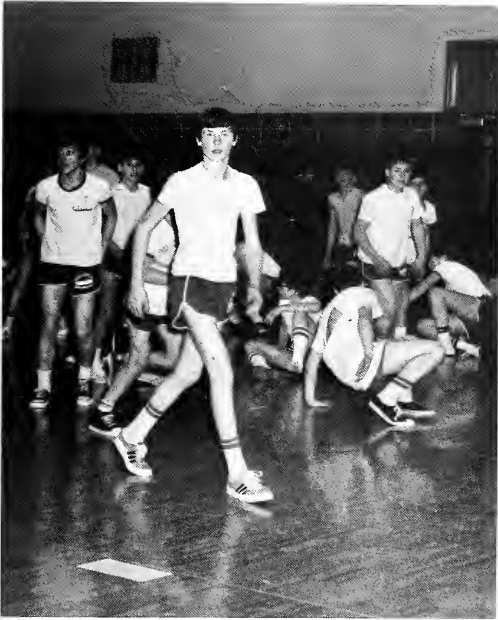

Physical education is required in grades seven through ten.

It is intended to develop a student's physical activities, to help the student to become aware of his body's physical condition and appearance. The students not only do exercises, but play games that are enjoyable as well as beneficial to one's health.

In Phys Ed classes the students play many types of games, such as: volleyball, basketball, soccer, baseball, etc. The students are now fortunate enough to go swimming and bowling.

On the sophomore level there is more of a variety of sports and activities offered, because this is the last year of required physical education.

Denise Ford, Tammy Leland and Beverly Weaver learn to style hair, give manicures, etc. in BEAUTY CULTURE.

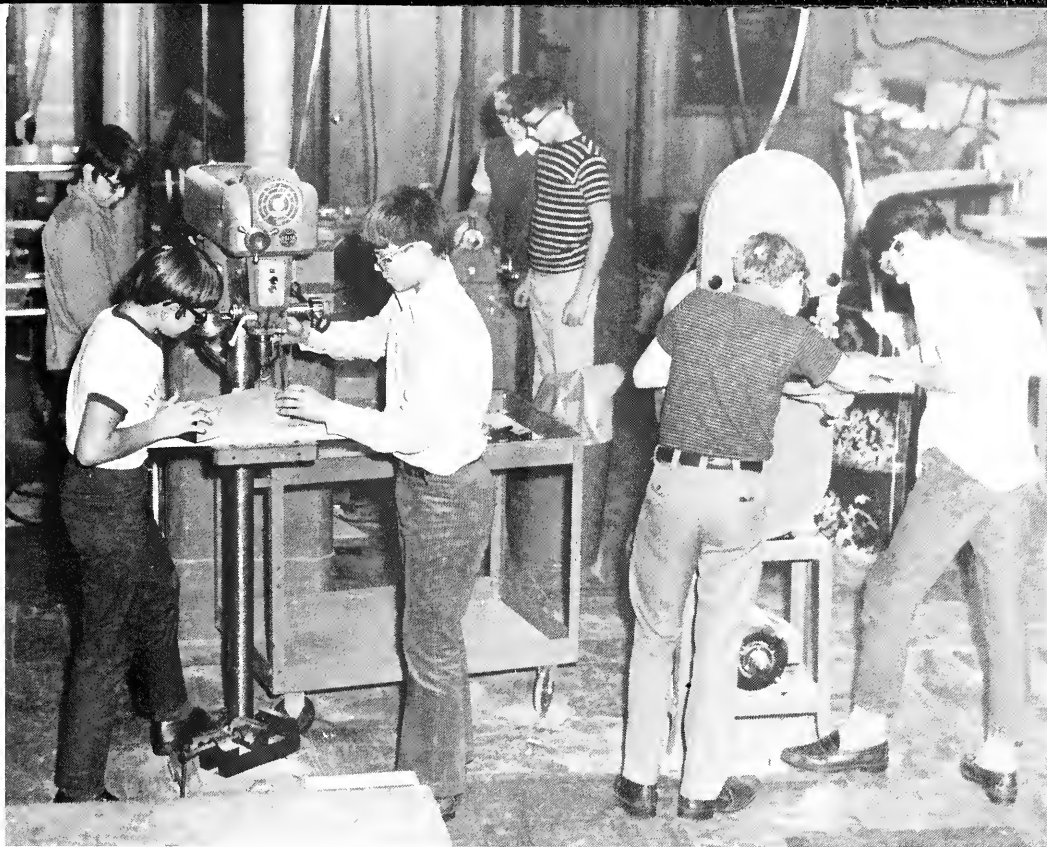

Laura Heeter rolls out a pie crust in FOOD SERVICE class.

Career Center Offers Wide Variety of Classes

ABOVE: Kathy Carver and Cathy Miller use the key punch machine in OFFICE TRAINING. RIGHT: Tim Bever and Dave Stewart work on a tractor in AG MECHANICS.

Agriculture and Shop Departments

Northfield's agriculture and shop departments are two of the best in the state of Indiana. The Ag department offers Farm Machinery, Advanced Livestock and Crops, Animal Science and Farm Powers. Eighth grade boys are required to take one semester of general agriculture and one semester of shop. The Future Farmers of America helps extend the knowledge learned in Ag.

The aim of the Shop department is to make first rate carpenters of its students. If a person is interested in making drafting a career, he can attend Vocational School and get further training.

Home Ec Builds Better Homemakers 8 Ways

Home Ec is involved with producing intelligent, interested homemakers. If a girl is educated in nutrition, child care, sewing, cooking and home decorating, she can make a happy, healthy home for her family.

All seventh graders are required to take two semesters of Home Ec. They learn basic nutrition, health care, sewing and cooking. Home Ec II is similar to Home Ec I only on a more indepth basis. Senior Home Ec students draw model-scale homes and furnish them from old catalogs.

The classes have teas for various school organizations. They prepared an elaborate dinner for the North Central Evaluation Team.

RIGHT: Mrs. Louanne Hendricks grades papers.

Foreign Language Department

This year both French and Spanish were taught by one teacher, Mrs. Louanne Hendricks. She is also the only teacher on the Northfield faculty who has studied abroad. Mrs. Hendricks attended the Universite de Madrid in Spain.

Repetition is the main learning process for first year students. This practice helps accustom the pupil to the different tone variations of French and Spanish. In the lab, actual native voices are played to help the students achieve that authentic accent. Second year students learn more of the mechanics of the written language, grammar. In the third year, novels and magazines from the countries are translated into English.

A foreign language is essential if one is planning to attend college, but besides that, learning a second language can be enjoyable and profitable.

NHS Hallways Transformed Into Art Galleries

This year, under the direction of Mr. John Miller, not only did the art room display art pieces, but the hallways were transformed into art galleries. Mr. Miller put the artwork into the halls to make his students proud of their work and to brighten up the hallways.

One of the best displays of Northfield's artistic talent was the beautiful back drop for the spring musical, THE SOUND OF MUSIC. The set was done in record time and several people who saw the play commented upon it.

Around Christmas, two gigantic angels were placed on the roof facing the inner court.

CLUBS

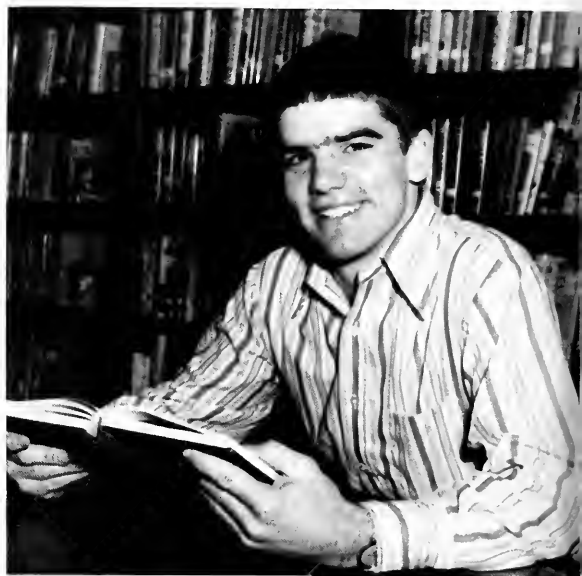

Keith Koch Heads Student Council

The Student Council was headed this year by Keith Koch, student body president. Gary Barlow served as vice-president; Diane Dawson was secretary, and Randy Fearnow, treasurer. Sponsors were Miss Barbara Durnbaugh and Mr. James Shipley.

They started off the year with Homecoming activities. SC members voted to change the procedures to include a king as well as a queen. They sponsored a convocation prior to Homecoming in which men from the local VFW post presented a patriotic program. Also, at the convo, the king and queen candidates introduced each other.

The Student Council voted in the Chess Club and A "Youth for Christ" organization. The main activity of the SC was checking coats at all home basketball games. One use of the profits was sponsoring the Homecoming dance.

Keith Koch, student body president, studies up on parliamentary procedure in the library.

National Honor Society Inducts 16 New Members

In the fall 5 seniors and 10 juniors were inducted into Northfield's chapter of the National Honor Society. The qualities needed to be a member of this organization are scholarship, leadership, citizenship and character. In the spring a special ceremony was held to induct our exchange student, Mauricio Andrade.

SENIOR MEMBERS inducted this fall were Cathy Miller, Beverly Corn, Kevin Baker, JoAnn DeVore and Teresa Vrooman.

Staff Publishes North Star Monthly

The main purpose of the journalism class is to publish monthly the school's official newspaper, the North Star. When not working on the paper, the class studies the essentials of journalistic writing.

This year there were two classes. One consisted of seniors who had taken journalism the year before. The other was for 1st year students.

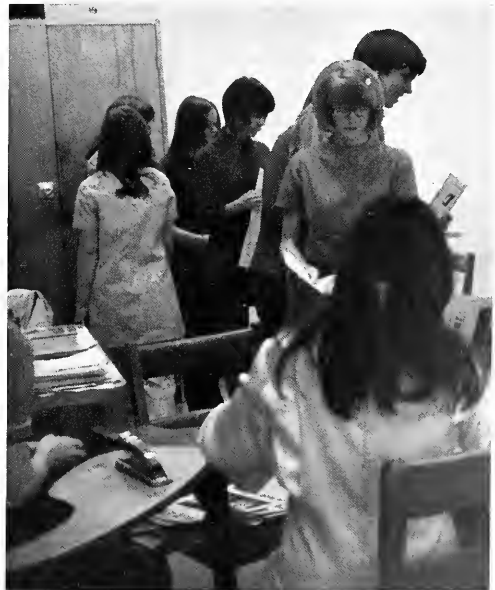

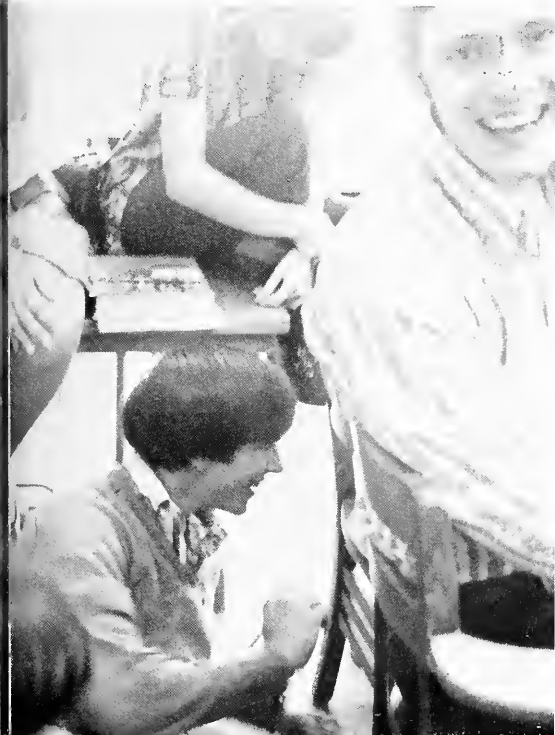

Kathy Winters and Teresa Freed attended the Indiana Journalism Institute for High School Students at Indiana University.

Annual Staff Strives to Produce a Better SHIELD

The staff of the 71-72 SHIELD has worked long hard hours to bring you what they hope is a better yearbook. Before the school year began, plans for theme, staff and finances were already being decided upon.

In July, Lottie Waggoner attended the Indiana University Institute for Yearbook Editors. At this institute, 96 editors from 5 different states learned the mechanics of putting a yearbook together. This summer, Linda Johnson attended the Ball State Journalism Workshop.

This year a different sales campaign was used. For two weeks in January subscriptions were sold. No other annuals will be available as no extra copies were ordered.

Girls' Cheerblock Receives New Vests

After much debating, voting and arguing, it was finally decided to order navy blue sweater vests for the cheerblock. Everyone agreed that these new vests added much to the appearance of the block.

Every Friday practices were held in the gym with the boys' cheerblock. New yells, chants and songs were taught to the girls at this time.

A Cheerblock Council was made up of the class representatives and the varsity cheerleaders. The purpose of the Council was to review the actions of the block's members and think of ways to increase spirit.

Math & Science Club Majors in Field Trips

This year's Math and Science Club took many field trips. The club went to the Marion High School Planetarium, the Manchester College Science Building and Computer Room. Some members also visited Taylor University to hear Dr. Werner Von Braun speak. To finish the year the club took a bus to the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry.

Library Club

The Library Club is made up of students who volunteer to assist Mrs. Virginia Bozarth during their free periods. They check books in and out, shelve them and do various other necessary jobs.

The club sponsored two book fairs this year. One in January and one in May. The first netted them about $70 in profit.

A Valentine Pot luck supper was held in the NHS library for the enjoyment of the members. A banquet was held at Unger's in Lafontaine on April 19, 1972. Awards were presented, first year members received certificates and others received pins. Before the banquet the club attended a showing of "The Ten Commandments" at Eagles Theatre in Wabash.

President was JoAnn DeVore, vice president; Cindy Fleck and Sec. Treas. Sally Stephenson.

Jeff Martin assists Mrs. Virginia Bozarth with checking in books, one of the jobs of the student librarian.

Drama Club Entertains Public With Student Talent

The Dramatics Club was very active this year. In the fall, they worked on an intense drama, THE CRUCIBLE. During the Christmas season, the organization put on a convocation for the entire school. It was a short play concerning peace entitled SHALOM. In the spring the entire club got a workout. Building and painting sets; cleaning the auditorium; selling tickets and, of course rehearsing for the SOUND OF MUSIC.

The Club also sold Rex Cleaner to raise money to buy carpeting. In the fall, the long awaited for carpeting arrived. Gautshi and Chain installed the blue carpeting in time for the year's first production.

Joanie Smith Advances to State Meet

The Speech Team competed in 10 meets this year and at all levels of the state, regional and sectional competition.

At the end of the regular season, the team held a kick-off supper at Papa Joe's. To get the members psyched-up, blue "good luck" ribbons were passed out to all members.

Five team members represented NHS at the regional meet.

For the first time in NHS history a team member competed at the state level. Joanie Smith competed in Humorous at Peru.

SECTIONAL WINNERS were Katie Ogalsbee, Jaanie Smith, Karen Sauder, Dale Smith, Coach Barbara Durnbaugh and Don Watkins.

Future Careers Club

This year the Future Teachers of America changed the name of the club to that of the Future Careers Club. The officers of the club were: Randy Unger, president; Keith Koch, vice-president; and Steve Hantelman, secretary-treasurer.

The club's sponsors were the guidance counselors, Mrs. Ida Van Camp and Mr. Wayne Fansler.

Senior members of this organization may enroll in exploratory teaching which gives them the chance to observe teachers and to work in the classroom.

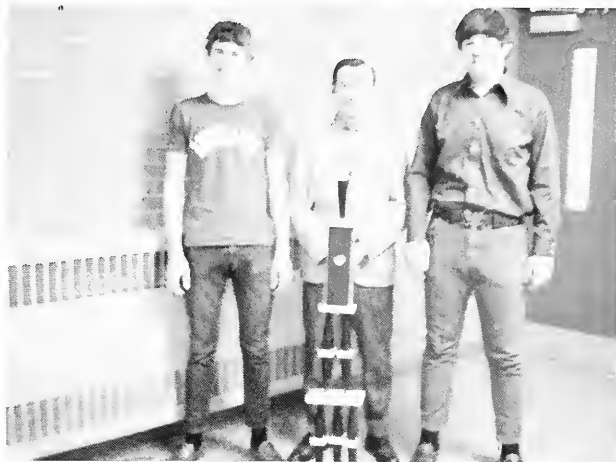

The club contained 17 members, all teaching in various areas. Teresa Freed helped Mr. Mast's 8th grade science class. Four senior girls observed different procedures at the Wabash County Hospital. These girls were: Denise Hauptert, Jo Ellen Hipskind, Marcia Manning and Debbie Taylor. Teaching in the English department were: Lottie Waggoner under Mrs. Smith and Bev Corn under Mrs. Bollenbacher. Three students taught at elementary schools. Diane Dawson taught third grade at Metro North; Jean McColley taught first grade at Lagro, and Keith Koch, 4th grade math at Urbana. Lisa Custer assisted Mr. Tom Miller's 8th grade history class and Randy Unger and Steve Hantelman assisted Mr. Coppler's P.E. classes. Jeff Culver helped Mr. Christie's 14th and 15th mod class. Ed Siders helped Mr. Rice's 7th grade math class. Debbie Swart taught in the Home Ec department and Mary Lou Weaver taught under Mr. Becker in the choral department.

FFA officers have been exhibiting prolific parliamentary procedure this year. Among their many club duties they presided over the Parent and Son Banquet, selected Diane Dawson FFA Sweetheart and gave proficiency awards.

The National Livestock Judging champions were Dan Hauptert, Mike Howard, Eric Fleck and Kerry Keffaber. Five boys applied for the Hoosier Farmers Degree; Craig McKillip, Eric Fleck, Bob Kisner, Gary Carr and Steve Fleck, all were in the top 2% of the state. Dave Lefforge and Craig McKillip received farming scholarships.

The FFA earns money through many different means. They sponsored such things as the tractor pull which has been very successful in the past years and the annual slave auction.

Greg Schenkel and Eric Fleck display their trophy they received for winning the State Quiz on the Wayne Rothgeb Show.

FHA Extends Classroom Knowledge

The Future Homemakers of America are mainly concerned with extending the knowledge learned in Home Economics beyond the classroom. It lets young people and adults learn from each other, making contributions to the knowledge of the other.

Sandra Winters was this year's recipient of the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award. This award is open to all senior girls. The girls take a general knowledge test and write an essay. The Criscoe Award for excellence in Home Ec was presented to Debbie Swart.

Driver's Club Patrol Parking Lot

This year members of the Drivers Club patrolled the student parking lot. They were to be on the lookout for students skipping out of study halls to go to their cars and leaving early; also, for any stealing from other students' cars. Although this didn't prove too successful, the club hopes it helped a little.

During the year the club sponsored movies on safe driving. The state police provided the films in hopes that there would be less traffic fatalities from Northfield.

Tri-Hi-Y Sponsors Easter Convocation

New members of the Tri-Hi-Y were inducted with a candle lighting ceremony in early Oct. The girls pledged to uphold the high standards of the club. The club is mainly a community service organization. At Christmas the club collected gifts for the patients at Vernon Manor.

As usual the club sponsored the Easter convocation. A movie about a famous football coach who was very religious, was the main part of the convo.

GAA

Numerous activities kept the girls in GAA on the go throughout the school year. Mrs. Jo Gamble, sponsor, led the girls in basketball, volleyball, softball, bowling, swimming and track. A new dimension in girls' athletics was added this year. Eight intramural basketball teams competed against each other. The Colt 45s (RIGHT) were the champions. They were: Kathy Steele, Cindy Fleck, Joni Burton, Pam Finch and Chris Yoder. Cindy Fleck received the Sportsmanship award and Kathy Steele the Most Valuable Player trophy.

N-Club Hold Annual Steak Fry May 25

All athletes who have earned a varsity letter according to the rules of the school are automatically members of the N-Club. The goal of this club is to become better athletes and citizens.

Senior members of the N-Club contacted local patrons for advertisements to pay for all the programs used for Northfield's athletic events.

Since the club is honorary, it has no other regularly organized activities. However, a traditional steak fry is held in the spring and the organization sponsors a special convocation every year.

Northfield's Swing Choir Makes TV Appearance

The NHS Swing Choir made many performances all over northeastern Indiana. The choir also appeared on Channel 33's 4-H In Action show, hosted by Wayne Rothgeb. The choir did an excellent job of entertaining, especially in the community. The group sang many popular songs of today and yesterday. They also performed for the school in a convocation to introduce the North Central Evaluation Team.

The Swing Choir was directed by Mr. Terry Becker.

BIG BLUE Keeps Moving Along

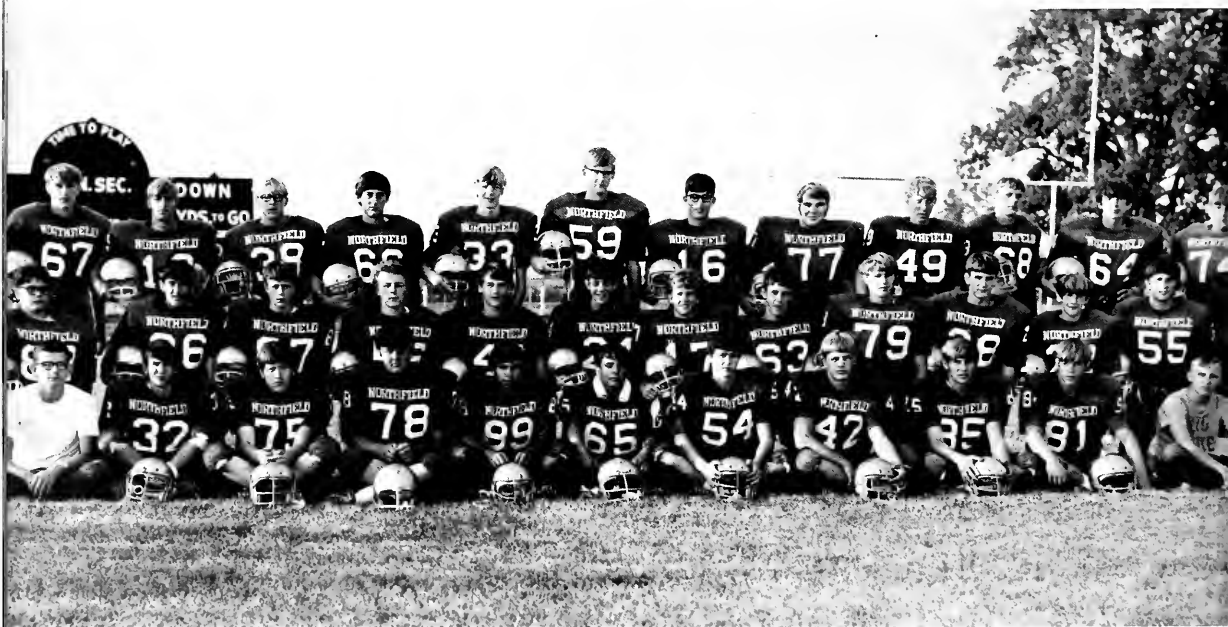

Despite the 3-6 season the Norse kept moving and hustling and often came close to winning more games. Coach Jim Kaltenmark commented that he thought the team as a whole is improving each year. "Next year should be a good year. We need more height and to be stronger on the field."

The greatest achievement is not in never falling but in rising after you fall.

BIG BLUE BASKETBALL '72

The sectional tourney was quite disappointing this year. It seems that you always play best against teams that are supposed to do you in. We had an opportunity to go to Elkhart. The boys just couldn't prepare themselves mentally, and as a result we lost. Dedication by all team members is what is necessary. We had three dedicated seniors. When you have seven seniors, you can see why things didn't run smoothly. We had a winning season. We won the Wabash County Tourney, we beat Peru.

Thanks go to all the senior boys, Randy (Unger) who was a truly dedicated player and led us many times. Keith (Koch) when he puts his mind to it was the best rebounder and shooter in the state. Kim (Steele) did an outstanding job on this team. Ed (Gillespie) finally came around and played and played at the end of the year like he should have in November. Tremendous hustle and desire made Jeff (Leland) very valuable. If Greg (Schenkel) could have stayed healthy he would have done a much better job. Jon (Gage) came through on many occasions. We had learned from them and will miss them.

Freshman Learn Basketball Fundamentals

The 1971-72 Freshman basketball team participated in a season that saw them play in many exciting, hard-fought, close scoring games.

The Norse drilled daily in practice on basketball fundamentals and gained a great deal of experience in game situations.

The highlight of our A-team season was the game in which we defeated Eastbrook, 68-64. Our B-team season highlight was a 68-34 victory over the Triton B-team. In both of these games a new Freshman scoring record was established.

Seniors Alter Graduation

The SENIOR class began the year by deciding to have baccalaureate and commencement on the same day, May 21. The graduation and other paraphernalia were ordered.

During the middle of the year, the SENIOR class started petitions against not allowing married and or parent students to participate in graduation exercises. The petitions were presented to the Metro School Board in January. Mr. Lawrence Wade, superintendent, talked to the SENIORS later and informed them the school board had voted the idea down and the only way they would reconsider it was if 90% of the SENIOR'S parents would sign a petition. Parental petitions were acted upon, but never completed.

Juniors Recieve Square Rings

Square-shaped class rings were joyously received in late September, which made juniors feel more like juniors.

Deb Miller, the Homecoming Candidate, was escorted by Junior Class President Randy Fearnow, candidate for Homecoming King. The float, which placed second, was entitled, "The Old Homestead."

Class flower, a yellow rose, and the class colors midnight blue and light blue, were selected along with the motto—"The future is not a gift, it is an achievement."

Juniors honored the Seniors with the prom, Three Coins in a Fountain, in May.

Sophs Claim Triple Victory

The class of '74 started the year by claiming a triple victory at Homecoming. The sophomore class King and Queen candidates, Jim Urschel, and Nancy McColley won the title of 1971-72 Homecoming Queen and King. All the hard work on the float was worth effort. The float with the title "Plow 'Em under, Norse" won first place in the competition. This was the first year a sophomore class ever won honors at homecoming.

Toward the end of the year the class members ordered class rings and enjoyed a class party early in March.

Class of '75

The Class of 1975 moved into high school status this year. With the prestige came the heavier work load and the harder courses. They also participated in their first homecoming activities. The class nominated Sally Strange and Rex Cunningham as their candidates for queen and king.

Class officers for the 71-72 school year were: Audie Wiley, president; Jeff Spiecher, vice-president; Andy Deeter, secretary; and Steve Urschel, treasurer. Student Council representatives were Rex Cunningham and Dave Swart. Debbie McLaughlin was the class editor for the Shield.

Eddie Blair and Randy Miller walk happily to their next class.

Mrs. Hood and Julie Paschall, and Alecia Walker, assistants, pose with Special Ed class and "Woodsy Owl."

"Give a Hoot," Says Spec Ed

The Special Ed class this year consisted of nine students taught by Mrs. Martha Hood. In the classroom they dwelt mainly on Math, Reading and Spelling. Some of the students also were enrolled in high school subjects.

For a class project, all the students contributed to the making of a three-foot papier mache figure of "Woodsy Owl." "Woodsy Owl" has been designated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the anti-pollution symbol.

The students also wrote letters to Sgt. Roger D. Garrett, a Wabash resident who lost both legs and an arm in an act of heroism in Vietnam. During December the class received a Christmas card from him thanking them for their thoughtfulness.

IF a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured or far away.

Mr. Kenneth Werking takes all senior pictures, sport group shots, organization pictures, graduation, prom, homecoming, musical, fall play and various classroom pictures. Without his help the staff would be at a complete loss. We can not thank him enough.

 LAYOUT ASST: Teresa Freed
 BUSINESS MANAGER: Cathy Miller
 STAFF: Joni Burton, Kathy Carver, Debbie
 Metzger, and Kathy Glassburn
 PHOTOGRAPHER: Bill Kerner

Without the help of various people and businesses the 72 SHIELD couldn't have gone to press. The following deserve a great deal of thanks for helping the staff "get it together":

NORTH STAR for sending Lottie Waggoner to Editors' workshop in 71 and Linda Johnson in 72.

JOURNALISM CLASS for copy and photographs.

MARTY LUTZ for the art work on the cover.

DICK KENNARD, Newsfoto Yearbooks representative, for valuable advice.

MRS. MARTHA GUYNN AND MRS. MARY ANN MAST, sponsors, for assistance and encouragement.

MR. KENNETH WERKING for photography.

WABASH PLAIN DEALER for sports action pictures.

Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more.
